

Position: Child Psychologist

Practice Summary

Synergy Psych is a group private practice in Greenville, South Carolina seeking a licensed psychologist (child/adolescent specialty) to join our team. Established for 13 years, our practice provides a wide breadth of services to children, adolescents, and adults from a multi-disciplinary perspective. Services include individual counseling, consultation, group counseling, and assessment. We function in cooperation with a second company division, Synergy Performance (www.synergyperformancesc.com), that offers sport/performance psychology, executive coaching, and organizational development services. We have strong referral relationships throughout the Upstate of South Carolina and consult on a national level with notable companies and athletic departments. This position is an excellent opportunity for a motivated individual to provide services with autonomy and support.
