

Licensed Professional Counselor

Practice Summary

Synergy Psych is a group private practice in Greenville, South Carolina seeking a full-time licensed professional counselor to join our team. Established for 12 years, our practice provides a wide breadth of services to children, adolescents, and adults from a multi-disciplinary perspective. Services include counseling, consultation, group counseling, and assessment. In addition, our other company division, Synergy Performance (www.synergyperformancesc.com), offers sport/performance psychology, executive coaching, and organizational development services. We have strong referral relationships throughout the upstate of South Carolina and consult on a national level with notable companies and athletic departments. This position is an excellent opportunity for a motivated individual to provide services with autonomy and support.

Position Summary

Seeking a full-time licensed professional counselor with experience working with children, adolescents, and adults. Services provided to include individual and family counseling. Applicant should be trained in evidence-based practices for treating concerns such as anxiety, depression, ADHD, trauma, and learning disabilities. The LPC may also lead groups on a seasonal basis, give presentations in Greenville and surrounding communities, and participate in marketing initiatives. They will collaborate with other professionals in a team setting and be responsible for maintaining best practices to help clients achieve the best possible outcome.

Desired Applicant Traits:

- Team player
- Hard working
- Eager/ambitious
- Flexible
- Reliable
- Strong communication skills

Essential Job Functions:

- Provide individual counseling services
- Function as vital part of a team in a multidisciplinary setting
- Collaborate with staff, parents, and other professionals to accomplish treatment goals

Salary/Benefits

- Salary commensurate with experience
- Competitive benefit package available (e.g., health, 401k, CEU, etc.)
- Greenville, SC voted 2nd best place to live in the United States by Outside magazine

Please send questions and/or letter of interest and CV to Mrs. Angela Valle at avalle@synergygroupsc.com.